Summer Youth Baseball Camp

- Directed by CBU Head Baseball Coach, Gary Adcock and CBU Assistants Andrew Brasington, Mark Van Meter, Aaron Holley and graduate assistant Brett McIntosh.
- The camp offers an opportunity to receive quality instruction with a fun and Christian approach!
- Campers receive skill instruction in areas such as: infield, outfield, catching, pitching, base running, hitting, bunting, team offense and team defense.
- Campers are separated into small groups according to their age. With a camper to coach ratio of 8:1, campers receive quality instruction with a specific emphasis put on skill instruction.
- Game competitions highlight the afternoons where campers will participate in age specific games that parents are welcome to attend.
- The camp also features our giant slip n slide and CBU pool on two of the five days.
- Lunch in the CBU cafeteria (some days)

Coaches
Gary Adcock - In nine seasons, Adcock has turned CBU into a perennial national power. Now, he is prepared to take the Lancers into a new era as CBU heads towards the NCAA. With more than 300 wins in nine seasons, he is the most successful coach in program history, and he is the only Lancer coach to win three GSAC championships, an NAIA National Championship Opening Round title and three GSAC Coach of the Year honors. He has also had assistant coaching stints at UCR, RCC as well as NCAA Division I members Purdue and UCLA.

What People Are Saying
“My son Lucas (age 8) attended your winter baseball camp. He had the best time and can’t wait to come back in the summer. When we got home each day he wanted to go outside and play more baseball. He picked up many valuable skills. The atmosphere was fun for the kids yet challenging. He will definitely return for the summer camps. It is great to find a camp that is Christ centered.”
-- Jane Havrisk

“As a parent I truly admire how you and your staff really take the time to get to know the campers on a personal level. From the best player out there to the least skilled, every camper is treated with so much enthusiasm. I get the feeling that everyone out there (CBU Baseball) takes ownership of the player’s development. Every time camp concludes, my children wish it was for another day and I always leave satisfied.”
-- Rodney Warner

“My favorite thing about baseball camp was catching fly balls and playing games at the end of each day on the big field. My goal is to get a homerun and the camp really helped me learn how to swing the bat.”
-- Alex (age 7)
